AS THE HUGHES PARTY SAW US.

Attempt to Wreck Train---A Fued Atmosphere---Dense Ignorance ---Dull Intellectuals.

Under flaming headlines set double and extending across four columns on the front page of the Cincinnati Times Star of last Friday contained the following infamous slander:

Louisa, Ky., October 12.—Evidence of a deliberate attempt to wreck the special train bearing Charles E. Hughes, the Republican nominee for President, on his tour through Kentucky, to-day, was discovered just in time to prevent a disaster.

A rail was found to have been broken on the point of a curve around a steep embankment of the Big Sandy river. The special had already left Paintsville. The section hands who made the discovery rushed down the track and flagged the train.

The rail was broken for a distance of several inches, the inside flange having been knocked entirely away. The part of the rail broken off could not be found. Train officials said that the break appeared to have been caused by a heavy blow from some instrument.

The train carried a number of reporters who sent out their vile stuff from this and other points.

Worse And More Of It.

Not satisfied with the above base charge the reporters on the Hughes special sent the following vile stuff to the New York Times, and no doubt to other newspapers throughout the land, to which we do not have access:

From The New York Times.

Louisa, Ky., Oct. 12, 1916.

Mr. Hughes spent several hours in the feud district. He was greeted with cordiality and at times with enthusiasm. Although many in the audience who never saw newspapers and don't keep in touch with current events may not have known at times just what he was talking about they always cheered references to the protection of American rights, and, as a rule, the references to the "rule of force" as opposed to the rule of reason. Their conception of the rule of force, however, was somewhat different than the candidate's.

The campaign was brought into the mountains aboard a six-car special train, which rocked along at a dizzy rate. The towns visited in the feud district were Pikeville, Prestonsburg, Paintsville, and Louisa. There were crowds at all the stopping places, crowds of a kind Mr. Hughes never had faced before. They scrambled about the train with shouts of "There's six of 'em" and the like. They smothered Mrs. Hughes in fall flowers collected from fields and gardens, and they cheered the nominee whether they were quite sure about the points he made or not. The section is Republican and Mr. Hughes was the first Presidential nominee, the first to come to see them. It was a big event in the feud country.

The crowds collected from the entire countryside. Many came on horseback, others in wagons or on special trains in which standing room was at a premium. Late comers were seen stumbling down the steep mountain trails on their ponies. A half dozen automobiles appeared, but they were the exception in this mountain country. There were hundreds of pretty, sturdy mountain girls, who brought flowers for Mrs. Hughes, and there were many aged women, too, who even in the presence of a Presidential nominee, thought it permissible to smoke their pipes. Some were not quite clear as to just what was going on, but all knew that an unusual personage was in the midst of them.

Had to Finish Her Chores.

Most of them were deeply interested, the others perhaps were representative of an aged woman at Paintsville, who smoked a pipe in her front yard while she shelled beans. She was looking complacently at the scene, some distance from her, breaking open the pods between puffs, when a reporter stropped up.

"Is he here?" she asked.

"That's he," replied the reporter, pointing.

"What's his name?"

"Mr. Hughes."

She took two long puffs and returned to her task.

"Don't you want to walk over and see him?" the reporter asked.

"Got to finish this chore," she replied. The men folks who had to remain outside the jam to attend to their horses expressed the belief that it was a good thing to have the Republican nominee come there, as the section now surely would go Republican.

"Does he ever talk about hosses?" asked one. He was told that Mr. Hughes did not, as a rule.

"I'm sorry," he replied, "for hosses is a very interesting thing to talk about."

Mr. Hughes once used the term "hold up" and that caused some excitement, but it developed that he had been misunderstood. He was discussing the Adamson eight-hour legislation, and not a train robbery. As a rule, however, Mr. Hughes introduced his more weighty remarks with some such prelude as this, which always received warm applause:

"It has been my desire since I was a boy to come to this part of our fair land. I have wanted to see the country from which poured forth so many stalwart men for the defense of the Union at the time of our great struggle. I have wanted to see the country which was distinguished for its pure American stock to so large a degree, and I have wanted to see the good people of the mountains, where, I am sure, we can look, if anywhere, for stalwart Americanism."

The only fact on which the lie about an attempt to wreck the train was based was a broken rail near Paintsville. It was broken by the regular train Thursday morning. Section men discovered it soon afterward and two freight trains were held up to await repairs long before the Hughes train came along. No comment is necessary. The slander carries its own condemnation. Who wants to injure or kill Mr. Hughes? Not the Democrats, because he is as weak a candidate as they could hope to see at the head of the Republican ticket. The Republicans might want to eliminate him from the race, but no Big Sandy Republican would do it except by way of the ballot box.

It is difficult to find words to express the condemnation due the author of the article in the New York Times. The pin-headed pustule who wrote it is evidently a cigarette sucking son of degeneracy who should not be permitted to run at large, much less to travel on such a train as the Hughes special should be, and slander people who are better and more intelligent than any to be found amongst his ancestry.

It is nearly a third of a century since the Hatfield-McCoy feud occurred, but it is still used to blacken the name of the Big Sandy Valley. Possibly two scores of men took part in that feud, confining their operations to their own families and to a radius of only a few miles on the West Virginia border of Pike-co. West Virginia's present Governor is a member of one of the feud families, and the Republican party placed him in that exalted position.

John C. Mayo was born within a few miles of the feud spot.

One of the most prominent preachers in the city of Brooklyn, N. Y., Rev. F. F. Shannon, is a native of Louisa, which the Hughes reporter includes in the feud district. We sent him there ten years ago as a missionary to try to save such ignoramus as these reporters, and we now apologize for having cut out such a hopeless job for him. That reporter who wrote the Times article will get the surprise of his life if he goes to hear this feud preacher, who is now civilized and perfectly harmless. The only trouble will be for him to comprehend and appreciate the pure and beautiful language and thought that flows from this son of the despoiled mountains of Eastern Kentucky.

Another Louisa product, Major W. O. Johnson, has twice been assigned to duty at the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, as a teacher in that eminent institution of learning.

We could go on at great length enumerating natives of this "feud district" who have gone out into all parts of the world and become prominent and successful.

Even W. J. Lampton, the noted humorist now living in New York, had a narrow escape from being included with us feudists, having been reared in the next hill county to this.

According to the newspapers the Hughes party came into the Big Sandy Valley at the request of John Langley and Caleb Powers. Our people had nothing to do with it, but received them with that hospitality for which this section is noted. A crude form of hospitality, it may be, in the eyes of a hot house weed traveling by special train in all the elegance and luxury that money can provide. But it was true hospitality, because the right spirit was behind it. In return for it what do we get?

Nobody interrupted Mr. Hughes in his speeches. He was treated with the greatest respect. No one even asked him what he would have done in Mexico. That reporter says "they cheered Hughes whether they were quite sure about the points he made or not." The writer missed his mark with this shaft of contempt. The joke is on Hughes because it is his first audience with perspicacity enough to suspect that his utterances contained any points. All through the campaign the complaint has been that his speeches are made up wholly of platitudes and evasion, and they were just the same in the feud district.

The reporter also says many in the audience never saw newspapers. We may be pardoned for stating that the Big Sandy News, published for 31 years in the "feud district" has a record of having attained a list of 4450 subscribers, a fact which was substantiated by sworn statement of the publisher. This exceeded by 650 the circulation of any other local newspaper in Kentucky—which includes the intelligent and cultured Bluegrass country. There is no ignorance here as dense as that which envelopes that pimple on the body politic who wrote the Times article. He is too narrow to see the real worth of a country or a people. He is not looking for the better side. Our great mines and the wonderful development now in progress did not get one line in the article. Instead, he is attracted by an aged woman smoking a pipe, a rather rare sight now-a-days, even in the feud district. We dare say he would not be shocked by the sight of women in his circle smoking cigarettes, partially dressed in low necked and high cut costumes.

KILL EACH OTHER IN PISTOL DUEL.

Knott County Men Fight Over Payment for Suit of Clothes.

Hindman, Ky., Oct. 14.—Hil Fitzpatrick, Jr., and John Conley shot and instantly killed each other in a duel with pistols. The shooting occurred on Salt creek in Knott-co., near the Floyd-co. line.

The trouble came up over the price of a suit of clothes Fitzpatrick had sold Conley a few days before. The two men met the evening before the killing and fought over the same thing.

Fitzpatrick claimed Conley had not paid him for the clothes according to his agreement, and they began to argue about it, which resulted in the fight. When they met again there were three others with them, but had nothing to do with the trouble.

It seems that Conley and Fitzpatrick were both prepared for the meeting and began shooting before those present could interfere.

Fitzpatrick was a son of Alex Fitzpatrick, who lives on Quick Sand, in Knott-co., and Conley was the son of Elijah Conley, who lives in that community, and is a cousin to Attorneys W. H. May and A. J. May, of Prestonsburg.

EDITOR LONG RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS.

Editor and Mrs. Luther T. Long of Huntington, W. Va., are rejoicing today over the arrival of a son at their home. Mrs. Long and son are at Mount Hope hospital and they are receiving congratulations from their scores of friends. Mrs. Long before marriage was Miss Anna Louise Ratcliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ratcliff of Huntington.

LIVE STOCK FAIR TO BE AT BLAINE

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28TH, IS THE DAY FOR THIS EXHIBIT.

The live stock fair to be held at Blaine on Saturday, October 28, is expected to be quite an interesting affair and well patronized. Enough exhibitors have signified their intention of taking part to insure the success of the day. Everybody is invited to attend.

In the afternoon there will be a base ball game.

The promoters of the fair will leave nothing undone to make it a pleasant and profitable occasion. It has been decided that only live stock exhibits can be arranged for, as the time is too short to do otherwise.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY.

Messrs. Jas. Q. Lackey, Geo. R. Vinson, Geo. R. Burgess, A. C. Young and R. V. Garred were in Lexington last Saturday attending the golden jubilee celebration of the 50th anniversary of Kentucky University which was A. & M. College when some of them attended. It has been forty-four years since Mr. Lackey enrolled as a student there.

The celebration was attended by graduates of the institution from all parts of the country and by the people of Kentucky. It is estimated that there were about 1500 in attendance. The day was begun with a student parade through the streets of the city and closed with class reunions at night. It was the grandest celebration of the kind ever held in Kentucky.

REV. JOHN MARTIN.

Among the oldest of the ministers, the oldest in point of service in the church is the Rev. John Martin, or Honest John Martin, by which name he is known. He was licensed to preach in Lewis-co., Ky., in 1861, when he was 21 years old. He is now 76, but notwithstanding his years he insists he is yet a young man, and younger men listen with interest to stories of his experience as a man and as minister. He has never had to work outside the Western Virginia conference. In this conference he has served many of the charges, among which is the Charleston work, of which he was pastor in 1887 and 1888, and among the older people of the church here he has many warm friends who remember him as he labored in the local field 30 years ago.—Charleston Post.

DEATH OF MRS. NANCY FRASHER.

Mrs. Nancy Ratcliff Frasher died at her home near Fort Gay, W. Va., last Saturday, October 14, at the age of 71 years, 6 months and 27 days. She was united in marriage to N. F. Frasher April 18, 1867 and to this union were born three boys and one girl. Since 1867 Mrs. Frasher had been a consistent member of the M.E. Church, South. The funeral and burial took place Sunday, conducted by the Rev. H. B. Hewlett, of this city, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

McCHESNEY WILL SPEAK AT LOUISA

ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4TH, HE WILL CLOSE THE CAMPAIGN HERE.

The State Committee has notified Chairman Stone that Hon. H. V. McChesney will speak at Louisa on Saturday, November 4th, in the afternoon, at 1 o'clock or 1:30.

Mr. McChesney needs no introduction to the people of Lawrence county. He has spoken here three or four times since he became prominent in politics nearly twenty years ago. He has been State Superintendent of Schools and Secretary of State of Kentucky and has a clean record. He was the contending candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor last year.

As a speaker he ranks as one of the best. He was the only campaigner who worried Senator Bradley during the last big campaign in which the latter participated.

Tell your neighbors to come to Louisa that day and hear him. He is a live wire.

Gen. Logan.

As heretofore announced, Hon. M. M. Logan, Attorney General of Kentucky, will speak at Louisa at 1 o'clock Friday, Oct. 27. We again call the attention of the voters to this matter and urge attendance. You will hear a good speech.

JOHN ALLEN FOUND DEAD IN PORTSMOUTH.

Portsmouth, October 12.—A well-dressed stranger, said to be John Allen, a public works construction man of Ironton, apparently about 50 years of age, was found dead in bed in a room on the third floor of the Wesley Hall Mission Wednesday morning.

It is said the man has a wife living in Ironton. He formerly worked for the Sheridan-Kirk Contract company on Dam No. 31, just below Portsmouth, and was a foreman of the construction forces which built the government dam at Fernbank, below Cincinnati. He has been in poor health for some time past and just recently returned from the South.

At the mission it was stated that Allen had been staying there for the past ten days. Rev. J. E. Dibert said the man had been drinking Tuesday, but that when evening came he attended services in the chapel, taking an active interest in the meeting and going to the altar. Some tracts, or religious leaflets that were given to him to be distributed to other persons whom he might encounter were also found in his pockets Wednesday morning. Dan Frederick, of Cleveland, who is also stopping at the mission, said Allen had invited him to share his room with him, but that when he went up stairs shortly after ten o'clock he found the door of Allen's room locked.

MR. FIELDS SPEAKING IN LAWRENCE COUNTY.

Congressman W. J. Fields is speaking at several points in Lawrence-co. this week. He started at Fallsburg Wednesday, then to Olivette, Webbville, Cherokee, Mouth of Keaton, Blaine Wilbur, Charley and Adams school house, near Adams' store. The Adams appointment is for 6:30 p. m. Friday.

CHANGE TRAVELING SALESMEN.

John M. Moore has resigned his position with Dixon, Moore & Co., and takes the upper Big Sandy valley territory for another wholesale grocery company. Ezra Hatten made the trip this week in Mr. Moore's territory.

THE FRASURE CASE TAKES ENTIRE WEEK

LAWRENCE CIRCUIT COURT NOW TAKING UP THE CASE OF WEBB HOLT.

When the NEWS went to press last week a jury had just been completed to try Robert Frasier for murder. The evidence in this case was finished Tuesday evening, the arguments were made Wednesday and the jury now has the fate of the defendant in its hands.

This case was transferred from the Carter Circuit Court, after having been tried there twice, the first time resulting in a hung jury and the second being a life sentence. Frasier served several months in the penitentiary and the Court of Appeals granted him a new trial. He lives at Ewing, Fleming-co., having moved there a few years ago from Floyd-co. His father is Evan S. Frasier, a citizen of excellent reputation. Robert also proved a good reputation up to the time of this trouble. He is 32 years old and has a wife and children. His wife is a daughter of Henry C. Hopson, of Beaver, Floyd-co.

Frasier is accused of killing his sister's daughter, Miss Stella Kinney, age 17, whose father is Hatfield Kinney, formerly of Floyd-co., but now of Carter.

The evidence is summed up as follows:

Miss Kinney had been at Frasier's home for ten months. On May 2, 1915, at 4 a. m., he and the girl started to drive through the country to the home of her parents near Grayson. At about 7:30 p. m. a few citizens of Olive Hill were startled by the screams of a woman, and later the cries of a man were heard calling for a light. A short distance outside of town these people found the girl lying unconscious in the road, with seven cuts made by a heavy instrument, such as a hatchet might make. Three of the wounds were on her head. Frasier had slight abrasions on his hand and forehead, and a bruise on the side of his head. He told the first man he met that two men had stopped them, one taking hold of the horse and the other skulking up behind the buggy and striking the girl with a heavy club and then felling him with the same implement. He said they robbed him of $27 and a check. No blood was found on the buggy. The girl's clothing was nearly covered with blood and mud. There was evidence of a struggle in the road extending for some distance. Frasier's watch and fountain pen were found along the course of this struggle. A tap off of the heel of the girl's shoe was found also. It was proved that Frasier had a flashlight in his pocket at the time he called for a light, but did not produce it.

Miss Kinney lived until some time the next day and was taken on home, a distance of about 10 miles. She never regained consciousness. An autopsy was performed and she was found to have been in a delicate condition. In supporting its contention that Frasier was the author of her trouble the commonwealth proved the girl to have been a very timid girl who did not go out, but remained closely about the home. Two physicians testified about applications made by Frasier for medicine to relieve such cases. One of these was Dr. Walker Stambaugh, of Floyd-co.

Frasier is a merchant and has a clerk in his store. It is said this clerk suggested that Frasier take with him on this trip a pistol that was in the store, but he said he would leave that and take a hatchet, so if they had a break-down he could repair it. Frasier admitted this on the witness stand, except he said he would take a hatchet or an ax. Neither of such implements was found in the vicinity of the tragedy.

Speeches were made for the defense by W. T. Cain, of Louisa, W. S. Harkins, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Morford of Fleming-co. Complimentary words are heard about these speeches, and also as to the speeches made for the commonwealth by John M. Waugh and Thos. Yates. The latter is County attorney of Carter. Mr. Harkins spoke about three hours Wednesday afternoon and Mr. Waugh made his argument Thursday morning. The case then went to the jury and is still in their hands.

The jury came out at 3 o'clock and said they could not agree. Judge Cisco sent them back to try again.

The Robt. Biggs murder case, from Carter-co., has been continued to the next term.

In the Webb Holt case the commonwealth announced ready, but the defense is trying for a continuance.

THE HOME DEMONSTRATOR.

Miss Fairlee Davis will leave Louisa within a few days to return to her home in Christian-co., having finished the year's work here as Home Demonstrator for Lawrence county. She carries with her the best wishes of the many friends she has made while here, and it is hoped she will return to this county next year. We have heard a number of the best people in the county say that Miss Davis has done excellent work in the country and that they are very anxious for her return. In Louisa she has been very helpful also. She is competent, industrious, pleasant and tactful, and the younger generation especially have been benefited by the improved methods being introduced by the United States through these demonstration agents. It is a great work and the people should so receive it and take advantage of the opportunities thus offered for learning the best methods.

The fiscal court by a close vote refused to pay half of the expense for another year. The government pays half. This year and last the people of Louisa subscribed and paid the amount required to secure a Home Demonstrator. It is not a very large amount—less than half what the County Agent costs—and it should be paid by the county.

REV. SHANNON DECLINES OFFER FROM WESTERN CHURCH.

Rev. F. F. Shannon has received a call from a large church at Los Angeles, Cal. He has declined the offer, preferring to remain in Brooklyn. The Los Angeles church pays a salary of $10,000 per year. There's nothing too good for the boys from Big Sandy. They are in demand.

GOV. STANLEY IN THE BIG SANDY VALLEY.

Gov. A. O. Stanley is speaking at various points in Eastern Kentucky. To-day (Friday) he speaks at Prestonsburg in the evening. Saturday he will speak at Paintsville in the afternoon and at Van Lear at night. He has had large and enthusiastic crowds at all appointments.

Y. P. M. S.

The Young People's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church South will serve tea, chocolate, coffee and cake on Saturday afternoon, October 21, in the building next door to Loar's store. Nothing will be over ten cents. You are invited to be present.

Mrs. Joe Fugate died Thursday at her home at the mouth of Blaine.

OIL FOUND IN BLAINE SECTION

FINE LUBRICATING OIL STRUCK AT DEPTH OF 360 FEET ON LAUREL.

A heavy lubricating oil has been found in Lawrence county on upper Laurel creek, a few miles from Blaine. Mr. Albin, who has a large boundary of leases in that territory, had the good fortune to strike this oil in the first test well drilled on the property. The oil was found at a depth of 340 feet several days ago and the matter was kept as quiet as possible until a day or two ago.

The well is on the farm of Felix Fyffe. It is about four miles southwest of the best well drilled 32 years ago by R. F. Vinson and others, of this place. That well was on the old Billie Edwards farm. It was a fine producer, but was lost by sending the drill on down through the sand into a strong water vein which could not be shut off or controlled.

The oil is the highest grade of lubricant, of a dark green color. The old abandoned wells have been flowing in small quantities during all these years and the owners of the land sell it for lubricating purposes at 30c per gallon. Gas is also produced by some of the wells and is utilized to some extent for heating and lighting.

The excitement usually following these fields is beginning to show itself and will no doubt reach fever heat soon.

It is said the 15 gallons per hour is being bailed out of the well with a sand pump. This is thought to indicate a very profitable strike. The depth which the drill went into the producing sand is said to be four feet. The experience of the former operators in this field causes caution on this point.

IT WAS ENOUGH TO STOP THE CLOCK.

When the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of U. S. vs. R. L. Simpkins, et al., for conspiracy in the 1914 election, the large clock which has been in the Federal building for many years and was never known to stop before, suddenly ceased to run, on the very minute that the verdict of acquittal was returned.

Boisy Green, a colored janitor in the building ventured the prophesy that if the Rockhouse ballot thieves and conspirators were acquitted, the big clock would fall flat on the floor. At any rate, the clock is not running—can't be started—and it may or may not have been prostrated by the verdict which shocked almost the entire state. The fact remains that its long hands point mutely and immovably to the very minute when the jury returned the astounding verdict.—Williamson News.

GRAND LODGE OF MASONS.

G. R. Lewis, Wm. E. Queen and Mike Conley left last Sunday for Louisville to attend the meeting of the Kentucky Grand Lodge of Masons. Mr. Lewis represents the Louisa Chapter in the Grand Chapter and Messrs. Queen and Conley are delegates from Apperson Lodge No. 195 to the Grand Lodge.

DR. M. WALDECK DEAD.

Dr. Monroe Waldeck died at his home at Ezel, Morgan-co., last week at the age of 76. He was related to Dunlap and John Waldeck and Mrs. T. S. Thompson, of Louisa, and visited here about a year ago.

Miss Elsie Walkenshaw, who had been visiting Miss Nina McHenry, left last Thursday for a visit to relatives in Cambridge and Lathrap, Ohio, before returning to her home at Blair, W. Va.

SUPT. FOX DIED SUDDENLY SUNDAY

PROMINENT C. & O. OFFICIAL PASSES AWAY AT CLIFTON FORGE.

J. A. Fox, superintendent of the Clifton Forge division of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, died very unexpectedly at his home in Clifton Forge last Sunday evening.

It seems that Mr. Fox was not feeling well Sunday at noon and complained to his wife that he had a pain in his chest. However, it did not seem severe enough to need the attention of a physician, and hence one was not called. At about five o'clock, Mr. Fox told his wife that he believed he would lie down on the couch. He did so, and shortly afterward complained of feeling badly, and before Mrs. Fox could secure a physician, he passed peacefully away. The cause of his death was described as apoplexy.

Mr. Fox was fifty-four years of age, was born and reared in Louisville, Ky., and had spent the greater part of his life as an official of the C. & O. Railroad company.

Mr. Fox was buried at Cynthiana, Ky., the funeral taking place at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, services conducted by the Rev. Howard Gibbons, formerly of Ashland.

He is survived by a wife and one son, B. J. Fox, who married Miss Lucile Sullivan, of this place.

WEST VIRGINIA ITEMS OF NEWS.

Rev. F. E. Shelton, a graduate of Berea and Perry College of 1915, has assumed charge of the Methodist church at Chattahoochee. He is a very capable young man and good results are expected from his ministry.

Mrs. Celia Hess, Red Jacket, who claimed to be ninety-eight years old, died at the home of her grandson, Harvey Hinkle Friday morning. Mrs. Hess was one of the most remarkable women that had ever lived to that age. Altho feeble in looks, age had never affected any of her senses and she could read, write, sew, hear as well as a woman of thirty. Her memory was bright, and she doted in telling stories of long ago when this country was young and full of adventure. Her death was attributed to a cold contracted a day or so before she died. She leaves a host of relatives among whom are many of Mingo county's most substantial citizens.—Williamson News.

Miss Margaret Morton, for several years one of Ashland's most efficient school teachers, and a very charming young woman, and Mr. W. J. Hockaday, now engaged in the drug business in Maysville, will be united in marriage at Greenup, the original home of both, on the evening of October 25th at the Presbyterian church. Following the wedding a reception will occur at the home of the bride.

Williamson, W. Va.—Miss Vida Good, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Good and Dr. William J. Smith were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank W. Phillips, pastor of the Presbyterian church in the presence of a small party of friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith left Wednesday for the east and will visit Washington, New York and other eastern cities. They will be at home at Stone, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Clay and family who have been visiting their mother, Mrs. L. B. Clay of Andis where Mr. Clay has been recovering from a bad wound received in a saw mill, last August, and has been at Keller hospital part of the time, were guests of their sister, Mrs. Clifford Ball today, and left this afternoon for their home in Kermit, W. Va.—Ironton News.

Our Kentucky Neighbors.

Dr. W. A. Perry is remodeling his home on East Winchester-av., a part of the improvements being a large and beautiful veranda with a side entrance to his office. When the work is completed this will be one of the pretty residences of Winchester-av.—Ashland Independent.

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 14.—Isom Terry, charged with the assassination of Joe Helton, on Jetts creek, this county, last May, was acquitted to-day by a jury. Helton was shot from ambush while returning to his home from church services on Sunday, and his body was found in the woods on Monday following by a search party. Terry with others were indicted on circumstantial evidence.

Ironton, Ohio.—F. E. Hayward had the pleasure of greeting an old friend who called on him Saturday, J. F. Stewart, of Newberry, Michigan. Mr. Stewart was engaged in farming on Tickers creek, Ky., when Mr. Hayward was first in the grocery business over forty years ago. Mr. Stewart at one time sold Mr. Hayward two thousand bushels of potatoes at 50 cents a bushel. He is now retired from business and is visiting in his old home region.

LETCHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG.

What is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

WHITESBURG, KY., Oct. 18.—A deplorable tragedy was enacted in the home of Ben E. Craft, a good young farmer of Millstone creek in this county on Friday, when little Ethel, 5 year old daughter was burned so severely that she died within a few hours. The little girl while playing "blindfold" with her brothers and sisters caught fire from an open grate, and before the arrival of parents, who were on the outside, the flames had completely enveloped the child. In the greatest agony imaginable the idol of the home passed away from the injuries inflicted. The family have the heartfelt sympathies of the whole community.

Much good road work has been in progress around Sergeant and Mayking above here where a number of men and teams are putting the new road, between Mayking and Kona station, in fine condition preparatory for the winter months coming on. At the recent sitting of the Letcher Fiscal Court arrangements were perfected for the new work to be carried on during the next two months. When the work is completed there will be an ideal automobile road between this city and Fleming, and so via McRoberts, and Dunham to Jenkins. Within a comparatively short time the whole of the mining centers can be covered by auto.

Contractor R. B. Franklin advised the members of the County Board of Education at their Saturday session that the splendid new high and graded school building on College Hill will be ready for the Tenth District Educational Association October 25, 27 and 28, when a large number of State-wide educators, including former State Superintendent V. O. Gilbert, Prof. Lewis of Berea College, Prof. Norwood of the State University, Cora Wilson Stewart of Moonlight School fame, Prof. Coates of the Eastern Kentucky Normal, will be on hand. A move is afoot by the spirited people of the town to give the visitors a great reception. Whitesburg will be prepared to entertain one of the largest delegations in her history.

The grand chapter order Eastern Star will hold its next annual meeting in Whitesburg, according to the announcement made at the meeting just closed at Dawson Springs. The grand chapter will meet some time during October next year, and it is expected that many visitors and Eastern Star members from every section of the commonwealth will be on hand. The people of our town are being recognized and honored in every section of the State.

CASH IN ADVANCE PLAN TO BE ADOPTED

On October 15th, 1916, the Big Sandy News Subscription List will be on a New Basis, and the Paper will be Sent Only until the Date Paid in Advance.

INCREASED COST OF PRODUCTION FORCES THIS CHANGE

As announced in the above headline the Big Sandy News will change its policy in handling the subscription list. We are compelled either to increase the subscription to $1.50 per year or to take steps that will stop all leaks at a waste. We hope by doing the latter to keep the subscription price at one dollar.

We are making announcement of our new policy several months in advance of its adoption so that all our friends and subscribers will have ample time to get on the new basis.

It has been customary from "time immemorial" almost, for country papers to extend credit to subscribers and to continue sending the paper until death, poverty, disease, hopelessness, delinquency, or an earthquake caused a break. This is bad business and often times very unsatisfactory. Some people get the impression that the publisher is trying to force the paper or them. This is one thing the publisher of the Big Sandy News can truthfully say he has never intended nor had any desire to do. In soliciting we do not even insist strongly upon anyone subscribing for the paper, because we never want to push it upon any person. Our efforts are directed chiefly to making a paper worth the subscription price. Nevertheless, a few people seem to think the paper is being forced upon them when it continues beyond the date paid for.

On the other hand, we have had a number of subscribers to resent our action in stopping the paper at the expiration of the period paid for, saying it was a reflection on their credit. This is the source from which we anticipate most of the trouble that is likely to come in changing to a strictly cash in advance system. But when the change is made it will be absolutely necessary to enforce it impartially. The mailing list will be in charge of an employee, who doesn't know any better than to stop every subscription at its paid expiration.

Although as above stated, the proposition has two sides, we believe our friends and patrons will like the new system better. We ask their kind cooperation in establishing this more business-like plan.

Subscription Rates.

Six months, postage paid... .65.
Four months, postage paid... .50.
Sent One Year to any U. S. address, postage paid... .1.00.
No subscription entered for less than 50 cents.

A RARE OFFER THAT ALL CAN AFFORD.

For Only Thirty Days, $1.50 Gets Several Good Papers.

From now until November 1 you can get the Big Sandy News for a year, Home & Farm for six months, Louisville Daily Post until Jan. 1, 1917, and a splendid Kentucky Governors' Wall Map, all for $1.50. We do not take very much stock in clubbing propositions, but this is such a good one we have decided to give our people the benefit of it. If you have already paid for the Big Sandy News you can have it extended for another year. Remember, this proposition is only good until November 1.

The Post is the best daily newspaper in Kentucky.

UGH! ACID STOMACH SOURNESS, HEARTBURN, GAS OR INDIGESTION

THE MOMENT "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" REACHES THE STOMACH ALL DISTRESS GOES.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into gassy lumps and cause a sick, sour, stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapepsin, digest this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective, no difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

MOSSY BOTTOM.

At eight o'clock Friday the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowe and claimed for its own their only daughter, Goldia Mae. She was taken very seriously ill Wednesday night. Everything was done that the best medical aid and kind, loving hands could do. God in his great wisdom saw fit to take her from those who loved her here and place her among the angels and those whose hearts are made sadder here can only say, "The will of God be done." Little Goldia Mae was a bright and lovable child and her smiling face will be sadly missed by many friends as well as in the home of which she was the idol. Weep not, dear father and mother for your little Goldia Mae is a jewel in heaven. She is singing around the throne waiting for her dear friends there.

Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Hopkins after which her little form was laid to rest in the family burial ground, there to sleep the peaceful sleep till the dead in Christ shall rise.

The bereaved family has the deepest sympathy of the entire community. Besides her father and mother she leaves a little brother and a host of friends.

The golden gates were open wide to a gentle voice and come. An angel from the other side. Welcomed your little one home. The precious one from us is gone. The voice we love is still. The place is vacant in our home. Which never can be filled. B. L.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

TRY THIS! HAIR GETS THICK,
GLOSSY, WAVY AND BEAUTIFUL AT ONCE.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few minutes you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

The Newspaper.

Of all men the newspaper men who are to select from the world's doings and the community's doings that with which the public is to be made familiar, needs to be wise and judicious, and to lay aside his dislikes and clear himself of all malice. If the newspaper which you take is to decide what information concerning the doings, good and bad, in the world and in the community, you and your family are to be made familiar with, have you not also a duty as to the kind of newspaper you take—whether it be one that parades and patronizes vice and crime, and sneers at goodness and decency, or one that does the reverse of this? Does it make any difference whether you admit, daily or weekly, to your household, a paper which has regard for truthfulness and fairness, or one which will lie and slander at any time to suit its purpose?

To the newspapers are committed great responsibilities, and of it there must be corresponding demand. The responsibility of the paper of those who make it and give it its character, is great and this responsibility ought to be exercised under the power and guidance of noble principle. But the paper and they who make it have not the only responsibility. They who select the paper which they will take and patronize have a responsibility for their selection. He who supports a paper in any way is responsible in a measure for the character of that paper. This community is responsible for the kind of papers which it encourages and supports; and especially is there a responsibility as to the character of the paper admitted to the home—a responsibility for admitting it. There is no place where a man should more carefully and firmly exercise his moral and Christian principle than in the selection of his paper.

You know that if the floor is clean, labor has been performed to make it so. You know that if you can take from your drawer a clean shirt whenever you want it, somebody's fingers have toiled. Why don't you come out with it hearty. Why how pleasant you make things look, wife, or "I am much obliged to you taking so much pains." If you gave a hundred and sixtieth part of the compliments you almost choked them with before they were married; if you would stop the banding of who you are going to have when number one is dead (such things wives may laugh at, but they sink deep sometimes) fewer women would seek for other sources of happiness.

It doesn't pay to gossip about one's neighbors. Let us have only kind thoughts and good words for every one, and be sure to lend a helping hand whenever occasion calls for it. In trying to lighten another's burden, we forget our own, and the kind thoughts we send out come back to us like echoes.

Should an acquaintance tread on your dress—your best, your very best—and by accident tear it, how profuse you are with your, "Never mind—don't think of it—I don't care at all." If a husband does it he gets a frown if nothing worse; if a child, it is chastised. Ah, these are little things, say you. They tell on the heart, be assured, little as they are. A gentleman stops at a friend's house and finds it in confusion. He doesn't say anything to apologize for—never thinks of such matters—everything is all right, cold supper, cold room, crying children, "perfectly comfortable." He goes home. His wife has been taking care of the sick ones and working her life almost out. "Don't see why things can't be kept in better order—there never were such cross children before."

Home Building.

One of the most inspiring spectacles to be witnessed here is that of a young, ambitious, self-made couple, strong on team work, happily planning and practically striving for the building of a home of their own. It may be but a small lot which they buy, on payments, at a modest price. It may be a tiny bungalow that they dream about as their nest, one that careful management brings within the range of their possession. But there is song on their lips and there is joy in their hearts as they toil and sacrifice to acquire this blessed heaven.

There is so much of this kind of home planning and home building here that it carries this land nearer to heaven. It radiates bliss. Even the crustiest cynic is softened at the sight of a joyous couple fashioning with their own hands the bowers that to them are to be Eden restored to earth.

Everyone of our girls likes to be as beautiful as she can. That is right and proper, but she must remember that it is not alone the smile of the pretty face, the tint of the delicate complexion, the luring glance of the eye, the beauty and symmetry of the person, nor the costly dress or decorations that compose a girl's loveliness. It is far more to be found in her pleasing deportment, her chaste conversation, the sensibility and purity of her thoughts, her affable and open disposition, her sympathy with those in adversity, her comfort and relief to the distressed, and above all, her real companionship, that constitute true loveliness.

FOR BILIOUSNESS, SOUR STOMACH AND CONSTIPATION.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fear, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you constipated bowels, a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Hughes says "correct policies" will keep us out of war. Sure! Wilson policies.

It is hard for the politician out of a job to discover any prosperity or other good thing.

"Political pie beats peace and prosperity," says the politician who is on the outside looking in. These are the fellows who are most anxious for Hughes election.

If any attempt was made to wreck Hughes' train in our next-door Republican neighbor county of Johnson it must have been the work of a Republican, because the Democrats want to keep Hughes on the track.

Hughes' Secretary of War made a charge on Kentucky this week. The Rough Rider shot off the first gun at Falmouth Wednesday and then fired away at every station on the way to Louisville, where he blew up the works.

Jane Addams, whom Theodore Roosevelt called "America's foremost citizen," and central woman figure in the 1912 Progressive National Convention, announced yesterday that she would vote for Wilson.

Judge J. M. Roberson, of Pikeville, is super, or in almost every way to Sampson for the experience, the integrity, and the reputation that entitle him to win over Sanpson. Look up the records of the two men.

Mr. Chas. Hughes is very solicitous about what will happen to this country's prosperity after the European war. He is lying awake at nights worrying about the awful things that will happen to the working people then. Calm yourself, Charley! Let Woodrow do it. He has shown himself a master in handling greater propositions than that will be. Of course it would be a big job for you, Charley, and you should worry if you had it; but the people will remove the load from your mind on November 7th.

Here is a fair sample of all the speeches of Charles Evans Hughes:

"I want to see the American flag the symbol of righteousness, the symbol of power, the symbol of dignity, of protected citizenship.

"And I want to see this nation girded with a desire to serve humanity, but realizing that it can serve no one throughout the world unless it respects itself."

Sure! We are all for that! Woodrow Wilson is not only for it but he has already done it!

John W. Boehne, of Evansville, the acknowledged leader of the German-American citizens of Indiana, has come out strongly in support of President Wilson for re-election. Mr. Boehne is a former Mayor of Evansville and a former Congressman.

In an interview F. D. Underwood, President of the Erie Railroad, declared unequivocally in favor of the re-election of President Wilson. Mr. Underwood said he fully indorsed the recent approval of the President's policies by Judge Samuel Lovett, Chairman of the Board of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Senator Ollie James has been speaking in various States and his eloquence and earnestness has stirred his immense audiences to the limit. He reports that the west is on fire for Wilson and that Ohio is as certain to give her electoral vote to the President as the 7th of November comes.

The anti-dumping law passed by Congress in last month will prevent European accumulations of goods from being dumped into the United States when peace settles over Europe. Hughes doesn't tell the people a word about this. If there is anything Woodrow has overlooked in the way of needed legislation please cite us to it.

E. Gybbon Acheson, inventor, who, in his own realm, probably ranks second to Thomas A. Edison, has announced his departure from the ranks of Republicanism to join the forces of President Wilson. Dr. Acheson is a member of a family which has voted the Republican ticket since the origin of the party.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Even Henry C. Frick, the famous head of the Carnegie steel properties and an old-style Pennsylvania protectionist, takes an uppercut at the Hughes "temporary prosperity" talk. Mr. Frick says that our prosperity not only will continue after the war, but is no longer dependent upon it and will be more substantial without it.

1,600,000 more men have jobs in American manufacturing plants under Woodrow Wilson to-day than had jobs four years ago when Taft was President. American workmen in manufacturing plants are receiving $1,853, 000,000 more in wages this year than four years ago. You are not at war—you are at work. Why change? What more do you want?

Perry S. Heath, former right hand man of Mark Hanna, and for many years secretary of the Republican National Committee, has just returned to Washington after a trip to California. He admits the election of Hughes is very doubtful and that President Wilson's strength is increasing "alarmingly." The tidal wave is on its way and nothing can stop it.

Ellery Sedgwick, editor of the Atlantic Monthly and a former follower of Governor Hughes, has declared for Wilson saying: "Mr. Wilson's foreign policy of patience and peace gives hope for the new world. Mr. Hughes' pale reflection of Colonel Roosevelt's demands reverts to the outworn code, despite fine talk of national honor. This has an evil significance. I solemnly believe that Mr. Hughes' election entails inevitable war with the Mexican people. Mr. Hughes has kept every promise. Mr. Hughes will not even make promises to keep."

Hughes says he would not have permitted the Lusitania to be sunk if he had been President of the United States. Evidently, he is just an ordinary mortal whose hindsight is better than anybody's foresight. No doubt he has also figured out that if he had been President in the early '70s he would have prevented the destruction of Chicago by fire. He could have done so by causing that woman to go to milk before dark. Simple enough. The secret of it all is to be "Johnny on the spot" when something is about to happen, and Hughes admits that he is Johnny.

The Literary Digest is non-political, but is edited by a Republican. It has made a poll of labor organizations and says:

"The Literary Digest presents the consensus of opinion of union-labor officials representing more than one hundred trades. It should be said at the outset that the verdict comes from five hundred leaders of varying degree, but all of importance, who are not expressing their own view, but what is far more significant, are reporting the trend of sentiment in their group. The initial striking feature of our investigation is that out of 457 labor officials, reporting, 332 say that their members favor Mr. Wilson, 47 find their voters are for Mr. Benson, the Socialist candidate, and 43 report sentiment favoring Mr. Hughes. The findings of 34 officials reveal either a non-committal attitude or sentiment "evenly divided."

Robert S. Lovett, head of the Union Pacific R. R. and other Harriman roads, in an authorized interview printed in the New York Times, says:

"President Wilson has more great achievements to his credit than most presidents who have preceded him. I am going to use all the influence I may have in supporting him for re-election.

"He may have made a mistake in the railroad strike matter, but we all make mistakes, and a man must be judged by the average of achievement and not by one act.

"The president has shown a loyal and consistent, personal and official friendship for every form of legitimate business. Even the railroads, the favorite field of political exploitation, have received justice and fairness from him.

"His management of the European war situation is the most brilliant in diplomatic history. He maintained our rights and honor with such force and logic that all the neutral nations of the world applauded.

"He kept his campaign pledges and revised the tariff downward."

Democrats Forging Ahead.

The New York Herald is strongly Republican, but has always tried to be accurate with its straw vote forecasts. New York, Oct. 15.—President Wilson's re-election by a large majority is again foreshadowed by last week's result of the New York Herald poll with 107,403 straw votes as a basis. The States which the Herald puts in the Wilson column have 312 electoral votes, of which 266 will elect.

The Herald says that the Republicans seem to be at a standstill, while the Democrats are forging ahead. The Herald declares that New York, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana will decide the election and admits that Hughes' possible plurality in Ohio is under 10,000, while Wilson is leading in New York. A special dispatch from Boston in the Herald to-day says:

"Wilson sentiment is growing alarmingly."

The Telegram, evening edition of the Herald, probably the most vehement anti-Wilson organ in New York, says today under the heading, "Campaign Slump Worries Leaders of Republicans," that fear of the loss of the labor vote has added to other causes of apprehension among the Republicans, and that with the presidential election less than four weeks off, Republican managers admit that the campaign, so far as the Republican party is concerned, "has struck a slump."

The Cincinnati Post says: Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for president, must pull Theodore Roosevelt off the stump if he does not approve of speeches Roosevelt is making against German Americans, demands Frank L. Pfaff, former vice-mayor of Cincinnati and leading German American, in a statement issued Saturday.

Pfaff says he speaks as a German American.

"No German American citizen can vote for Hughes with Roosevelt insulting Germans in touring the country for the Republican candidate," said Pfaff.

"The scheme of local German leaders asking to have Roosevelt kept out of Ohio during this campaign will do no good in my opinion, for I believe German American voters have sized up the situation by this time.

"Between the two candidates, German American citizens are certainly safer with Wilson.

"The business conditions of the United States are prosperous, the agricultural situation is excellent, labor is getting better pay, and it looks to me to be foolish to make a change under these conditions.

"Prosperity is not due to the war, but to the progressive legislation passed during the Democratic administration—legislation which had been promised by the Republican party for 30 years, but never fulfilled.

"All this talk that certain German American organizations are hostile to President Wilson is not supported by the facts, and in this connection I might call attention to the editorial attitude of 'The Fatherland,' an independent German newspaper, widely circulated in this country. Ed. Viereck of 'The Fatherland' had put the soft pedal on his editorial expressions against President Wilson and apparently he now realizes that Wilson has been absolutely neutral during the present war."

The Democratic Farm Loan Bank Act.

Some Republican newspapers like to copy occasional political articles from the Cincinnati Enquirer and refer to it as an "Independent Democratic" newspaper. The truth is that it usually supports the Republican party. But just to show they dare not copy all the Enquirer says this year we reproduce an editorial that appeared in that paper last Saturday:

The more than 100,000 inquiries received by the Farm Loan Board from persons desirous of information as to process of operation of the proposed banks indicates that need of just such a system, and points out with marvelous distinctness the relief which the measure will bring to agriculturists throughout the United States.

This rural credit legislation will within the next five years completely transform life upon the farms, and millions of owners of the cultivated lands of the country will experience financial relief through its beneficent and helpful methods.

The good roads, the auto vehicles, the telephones, the electric light plants, the motor boats, the suburban and rural electric railways have made rural life much pleasanter than before their advent. Now, with those who employ borrowed funds able to secure money at more reasonable rates, and many with broad acres and rich lands able to obtain loans unobtainable at any rate in the past in many instances, or when obtainable, then at exorbitant rates, these conditions must make for a vast improvement in the home and the business life of the farmers.

But it is not only the farmers who will be benefited by this advanced and progressive legislation of the Democratic party.

The merchants at the cross-roads, in the villages, the towns and even the largest cities, will be beneficiaries as well as the farmers.

The manufacturers of agricultural machines, farm implements and of all classes of materials used upon the farms or in farming operations will reap great and prolonged benefits from this wise and helpful legislation passed by a Democratic Congress to further the interests of the people of the United States.

It is all right for our Republican brethren to say we would have passed such a measure; our Administrations favored it, our Congress, if elected in November, would have done this for the farmers, but there stands before the people of this country 16 years of continued Republican Administration, 16 years of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, with Republican Houses and a Republican Senate, and there was no reform of the currency, no Federal Reserve Bank legislation, no American shipping bill, and not a line of legislation giving financial relief to the farmers of the United States.

The record of good intentions is sponged out by Republican failure to act in the interests of the masses of the American people.

The Republicans of the United States for years upon years promised the people of this country that they would institute three most important systems in aid of the business of this country.

They promised currency reform, and they did not keep that promise. They evaded, delayed and refused their fulfillment of that promise, and gave the Democratic party the opportunity to remove the shackles upon business and to enlarge and render easy the sphere

THE OTHER THING.

Mr. Charles Hughes, candidate for President, condemns everything President Wilson has done. He doesn't say what he would have done, but it is fair to presume Mr. Hughes would have performed altogether differently; he would have done "the other thing" in all these matters. Let's see what "the other thing" is in each case.

In the Mexican troubles President Wilson refused to recognize Huerta as the head of the republic, because he attained his position by assassinating President Madero, his friend and benefactor. The other thing, Hughes' policy, would have recognized the assassin as the proper man to rule Mexico.

Later on Wilson used every legitimate means to keep out of war with Mexico. War is the other thing—Mr. Hughes' only alternative.

By firm diplomatic methods Wilson forced Germany and England and other countries to respect the rights of our citizens and our commerce on the seas. No more vessels are being torpedoed with Americans aboard. The other thing would be war with these countries, or helpless submission to their ravages.

The Federal Reserve Banking law, which has wiped out panics and given this country most of its present prosperity, was one of Wilson's first laws. The other thing was to leave the country's financial control in the hands of Wall Street, subject to the manipulation of the few men controlling that great center; to leave every bank standing alone; with no place to turn for relief for itself and customers in times of financial stress, a most pernicious and perverse system. Hughes condemns what Wilson has accomplished, and of course he would have done the other thing.

Hughes would have done the other thing in the recent railroad strike, which can only mean that he would have permitted every industry and every avenue of business to be closed, and the cities to suffer starvation.

The law to re-establish American shipping on the seas falls under Hughes' condemnation. The other thing would be to leave the United States without merchant vessels, and entirely dependent upon the ships of other countries.

The law prohibiting the slavish tasks of labor upon children was urged by Wilson. The other thing would have left them tolling to premature graves in ignorance and helplessness.

The Federal Trades Commission to help business is proving its great worth. The other thing would have left this undone.

The tariff taken out of politics and placed in the hands of a non-partisan commission with power to regulate it to the best advantage for our country and our revenues. The other thing was to leave it strictly a political contention and the servant of the rich manufacturer.

The law to avert disastrous strike and try out the eight-hour plan under supervision of a government commission, which will report back to Congress next winter, was a wise and fair act—fair to the public, the laboring man and the public. Hughes would have done the other thing—let the strike come with all its losses and bloodshed and general disturbance, and further strife between labor and capital.

The income tax, requiring those earning more than a living to bear an additional percentage of the burdens of the government, is a fair law and not a hardship on any one. Mr. Hughes would have done the other thing—he would have left this off.

Those who want all these important things reversed should vote for Hughes.

Mrs. McGuire is one of the number. She responded to the address of welcome at the Lexington meeting.

GLADDEN FOR WILSON.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 16.—Rev. Washington Gladden, dean of Central West ministers to-day told why he will change his politics this year and vote for Woodrow Wilson. He has voted for all the Republican candidates for President since Lincoln, whose case he compares with that of President Wilson. The Democratic party, he says, is more progressive than the Republican party and better represents ideas and principles of progressiveness.

A NOVEL CASE.

A novel question will come before the Court of Appeals for decision when the case of H. L. Boggs, of Johnson-co., indicted for selling liquor without a license was fined $60, reaches the court. Irvine Jayne, a farmer of Johnson-co., took his apples to Boggs' distillery and had them made into brandy, the men sharing equally in the brandy. The question for the court to decide is whether Boggs is guilty of selling liquor without a license by reason of making brandy out of Jayne's apples and giving him half of the liquor.

FORGED CHECK IS ALLEGATION.

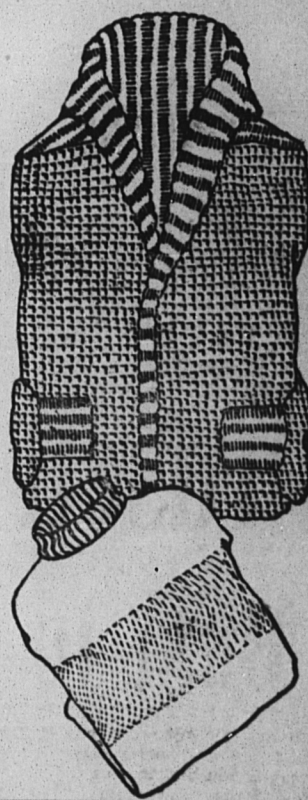

Lexington, Ky.—A search is being made for a man representing himself to be a substantial citizen of Salyersville who succeeded in having a forged check cashed here some days ago. He presented the check at a local hotel and gave the Vandoren Hardware Co., as reference, claiming that he was a citizen of Salyersville well known to the firm. On this representation by telephone, a representative of the house stood good, and the money was paid over.

LOUISA, KENTUCKY

Would Louisa people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it? Statements like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader:

J. B. Peters, Lock Ave., Louisa, says: "Sharp pains darted through my kidneys and after stooping, it was hard for me to straighten. Rheumatic pains seemed to shoot all through my body, particularly in my knees, hips and joints. I was languid and all run down. Doan's Kidney Pills removed all the troubles."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Peters said: "I have no hesitation in confirming my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Peters has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Arbitration

is the twentieth century means of settling disputes.

In time, Arbitration should supplant war in deciding differences between great nations. Acceptance of the principle of Arbitration will render great industrial strikes impossible—and even minor differences will come to be settled by this means. Impartial judges can be counted upon to render fair decisions.

To impartial judges of roofing, we will always be willing to leave decision as to the comparative merits of roofings, confident that intelligent investigation will result in a decision for

Certain-teed Roofing

An investigation into methods of manufacturing would show that only the best quality of roofing felts is used in CERTAIN-TEED roofing. This is thoroughly saturated with a blend of soft asphalt—the formula of the General's Board of Expert Chemists. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which forms an impervious coating and prevents the inner saturation from drying out.

This explains why CERTAIN-TEED outlives ordinary roofing, and why it is possible to guarantee it for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). The responsibility of the world's largest manufacturer of roofings and building papers is behind this guarantee; which is conservative, as experience proves that CERTAIN-TEED outlives the period of guarantee.

The General makes one third of America's supply of asphalt roll roofing. His facilities are unequalled, and he is able to produce the highest quality roofing at the lowest manufacturing cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in a slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

Mr. Hughes is suffering terribly over the enormous prosperity of the United States. He is real peeved about it. At Louisa last week he said "we are living in a fool's paradise." He is crying about what he imagines might happen to prosperity some sad day.

We once knew a woman whose maiden sister came to live with her. Soon afterward her husband found her in great distress and shedding copious tears. "What in the world is the matter?" he inquired. "I just got to thinking about parting with my sister if she should get married or go away some time!"

Samuel the Third

There Was Good Luck
In the Name

By CLARISSA MACKIE

There being no schools near their home, the Arnolds concluded to employ a tutor.

The first tutor engaged for the Arnold children was Samuel Warmouth, a divinity student. Mrs. Arnold's sister Anne, who was gifted with an unusual amount of beauty, set off by numerous accomplishments, sent him away in six weeks "with a dea in his ear." Anne declared that it was not her fault; that she could not help the reverend gentleman from falling in love with her, and she could not marry even a man who wanted her.

Mrs. Arnold, who, being a woman, was versed in the tricks and manners of her sex, knew better. She saw at once that Anne was as much bent on bringing down Mr. Warmouth as he was willing to be brought down. However, the children must have a tutor, so after the first had departed another was engaged. Mrs. Arnold was opposed to the second one on the ground that his surname was Samuel, and there was bad luck in the name. She had not mentioned to her husband that she blamed his sister for captivating the tutor, and Mr. Arnold naturally considered her reason absurd, and, as he expressed it, "woman's logic."

Whether Mrs. Arnold's reason was the correct one or not, the result was that the second Samuel met with the same fate as the first.

"I told you so," said Mrs. Arnold to her husband.

"Told me what?"

"That there was bad luck for us in the name of Samuel."

"Nonsense! More likely it was because his other name was Green."

"Maybe that's the real reason," replied the lady demurely.

Mr. Green had given as a reason for his going that he had found his studies would require more time than he could spare for his duties as tutor. He had recommended a friend for his successor. Whether he had an object in recommending the man he did, whether he told his friend his real reason for leaving the Arnolds, does not appear. There may have been revenge in his recommendation.

When Mr. Arnold reported to his wife that the new tutor's name was Samuel Newman she was overwhelmed with consternation.

"Not another Samuel?" cried Mrs. Arnold, aghast.

"It's a fact. This makes the third tutor to 'bear that name. Sounds harmless enough, doesn't it?" returned her husband dryly.

"They are quite inoffensive. It is Anne who makes all the trouble. I shall send her away before Mr. Newman arrives. We simply cannot have her flirting with him. You know when Mr. Green went away he recommended Mr. Newman for the position."

"I know," nodded Mr. Arnold.

"Both the other Samuels resigned broken hearted, and we must keep Mr. Newman during the summer. The boys are not making any progress in their studies. It is settled now. If Anne cannot behave herself she must go away and give the children a chance to absorb a little learning." Mrs. Arnold's plump countenance settled into lines of severity.

"Too much gooseberry," said Mr. Arnold thoughtfully. "Max and Bobby didn't make much headway in their studies with Sam Green murmuring German poetry in Anne's pink ears. I don't know what we shall do, Maud. Your sister is an arrant little flirt, and the only cure is for her to fall violently in love herself."

"I wish she would," sighed Mrs. Arnold, "but she won't. I never saw another girl with her propensity for changing a perfectly agreeable young man into a pestiferous, lovesick ninnny."

"Who is a ninnny?" inquired Anne's fresh young voice from the doorway. "I hope you and William are not quarreling," she added in a shocked tone.

William Arnold grinned at his sister-in-law.

"You know Maud and I never quarrel unless we are discussing your faults."

"Have I any faults?" inquired Anne saucily. "Well, you may as well mark one for me now. I listened to what you were saying about the Samuels!"

"Anne Cummings!" exclaimed her shocked sister.

"I did. Really, it interested me more than it possibly could either of you."

"In what way?"

"Why, I am likely to fall in love with any one of the tutors. It really is William's fault for selecting such perfectly fascinating tutors, as if it mattered to Max or Bobby what a tutor looked like. Now, Mr. Robinson was cherubic looking, and Mr. Green was a poet's dream!" cried enthusiastic Anne. "Now, dear brother William, is the new one nice?"

"I haven't seen him," returned Mr. Arnold, with an amused smile. "As a matter of fact, Anne, I engaged all of these young men by letter. I've engaged Newman for the summer months. In the fall he is to take a secretaryship in Washington. All I ask is that you let the poor fellow alone."

"Of course I shall," said Anne, with dignity.

Mrs. Arnold looked over her eyeglasses. "If you don't, Anne, dear, away you go to Aunt Rebecca's."

"Horrors! I will be good," promised Anne, and she tripped away, only to poke her pretty head inside the door again. "I do hope he is musical," she flashed at them before she disappeared.

That evening the new tutor arrived. He was not very tall and rather stockily built. He had a clean cut face tanned by sun and wind, lighted by keen, dark eyes. Anne liked the way he wore his clothes, and she liked his brown, capable looking hands. She also liked the direct glance of his eyes, but there was nothing softening in his glance when it rested upon her lovely face.

Therein lay the oddity of the new tutor. Mr. Newman was politely indifferent to Anne's charms, even when she played the harp, which was her chief accomplishment. When accompanied by her clear, sweet soprano the results had been disastrous indeed to the other Samuels.

"Well, Anne, how do you like him?" asked her brother-in-law one morning as they stood on the veranda watching Newman and the little boys racing across the lawn to the boathouse. When the three white clad forms had disappeared Anne shrugged her shoulder impatiently.

"He's perfectly hateful!" she flared, and then ran away to the rose garden to hide the telltale tears that filled her merry eyes.

Mr. Samuel Newman had been quite frank in explaining to Anne that the rowboat would not safely carry more than three persons, and as he was teaching her nephews how to row and manage a boat, her presence among them would be exceedingly awkward. Anne had tossed her dark head and turned away, but there was a bewildered look in her pansy brown eyes, for she was not accustomed to receiving rebuffs.

"I wonder why he doesn't like me!" she asked herself for the hundredth time since breakfast. Anne leaned over the artificial pond and stared at her reflection in the still water. "Certainly I am not homely," she smiled vainly, and lost her balance.

She would have tumbled ignominiously into the pond had not a strong hand grasped her arm and drawn her back to safety.

"The mirror in the music room is less hazardous," advised Mr. Newman with a quizzical glance, and Anne blushed hotly.

"Please don't do that again," she said rashly.

"Do what? Rescue you from danger?"

"Yes. I would rather fall in and be drowned than be saved by you!" she cried fiercely.

"I will remember," he said gravely, and passed into the house.

Instantly poor Anne was smitten with shame. She flew to her room and battled with a new, strange misery, for retribution had come upon gay, light hearted Anne Cummings. She had fallen in love with the new tutor, and he evidenced not the slightest interest in her—indeed, appeared to disapprove of her.

Verily, it would appear that the third Samuel was to avenge the wrongs of his predecessors.

Mr. Newman was gracious to Mrs. Arnold, quite chummy with her husband and devoted to his small charges, who adored him in return. But it was apparent to the entire household that he was indifferent to Anne.

The Arnolds were amused at the situation until Maud guessed Anne's pitiful secret. "I am glad he is going next week," she said one September day.

"I believe I will take Anne on that coaching trip Monday," said William, with strange gruffness.

"William, you're a dear," and his wife kissed him.

"Poor little Anne!" he murmured. "It's a pity. I really like Newman better than the other two. He is more manly and independent and has boundless ambition. You never can tell where a chap like that will stop. Just the cool, firm hand to guide Anne."

"I suppose it is just as well for Anne to learn that she can't play with fire," sighed Anne's sister, "but these lifeless sons are so hard and leave such a bitter tang."

The next morning Anne went tiptoeing down to the water's edge. She was a trim figure in her bathing dress. The water was warm and inviting, and Anne was a fearless swimmer.

Max and Bobby were digging in the sand, and Newman and William Arnold were playing tennis.

"I will swim out to the float and rest awhile," she thought.

Her white arms cut the water with long, even strokes. The tide was running swiftly, and Anne felt strangely tired. There came a sudden chill, and then the agonizing cramp that rendered her helpless. Her arms flew up, and she cried out once before she sank, "Samuel!"

When she came to the surface she saw a white clad form plunging madly through the water toward her. Down, down, down she went.

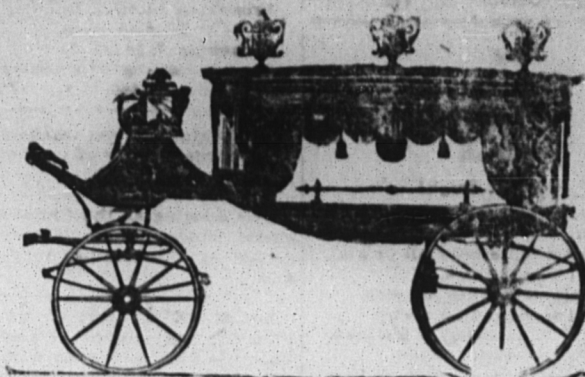

When she came to the surface, weak and helpless, a pair of strong arms were ready to bear her safely to land.

"Dear little Anne!" murmured the third Samuel as he staggered across the lawn with her wet head pressed against his trembling lips.

After awhile, when dry and warm again, they met on the veranda. Samuel Newman took Anne's little hands in his and sought her shy eyes, with his own grown vnder tender.

"I tried hard not to fall in love with you," he groaned. "Sam Green warned me."

"It's different when—people—love each other, isn't it?" whispered Anne softly.

SUCCESS OF A NEW REMEDY FOR BACKACHE, KIDNEYS, RHEUMATISM.

Dear Mr. Editor—I suffered for years with backache. Last March I tried "Anuric" and have used this new kidney medicine recently discovered by Dr. Pierce, and it was wonderful the way it eased the pain and gave me relief in such a short time. I have tried several medicines, but "Anuric" is the only one that gave satisfaction. I feel it my duty to recommend "Anuric Tablets" to any one who suffers as I did.

(Signed) MRS. MARGARET E. SNIDER.

NOTE: Folks in town and adjoining counties are delighted with the results they have obtained by using "ANURIC," the newest discovery of Dr. Pierce, who is head of the INVALIDS' HOTEL and SURGICAL INSTITUTE, in Buffalo, N. Y. Those who started the day with a backache, stiff legs, arms and muscles, and an aching head (worn out before the day began because they were in and out of bed half a dozen times at night) are appreciating the perfect rest, comfort and new strength they obtained from Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. To prove that this is a certain uric acid solvent and conquers headache, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism, if you've never used the "Anuric," cut this out and send ten cents to Doctor Pierce for a large sample package. This will prove to you that "Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid—and the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector. If you are a sufferer, go to your best druggist and ask for a 50-cent box of "Anuric." You run no risk for Dr. Pierce's good name stands behind this wonderful new discovery as it has for the past half century for his "Golden Medical Discovery," a general tonic made from roots with pure glycerine which makes the blood pure, his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women and "Pleasant Pellets" for liver ills.

Novelty Bags For Every Costume and Every Girl

Designs by Franklin Simon & Co., New York.

THIS drawstring bag of plain taffeta is striped like a Roman scarf with gayly colored beads. Lined in silk and fitted with side pockets. It makes a charming novelty. The other design is also imported, a black faille studded with fine steel beads. The handsome ring and unmatched ends make a picturesque result.

On Russian lines will many of autumn dresses be modeled, and so we may look for fur as the principal trimming, with embroidery as a good second, when the two features are not combined. Big pockets on skirts or the skirt section of the blouses of walking dresses and high collars will likewise be featured.

Walking dresses is the name by which smart frocks for street wear will be known this autumn. For shopping and general runabout use, worn with small furs, these dresses will sound a keynote of smartness and prove as practical as have those that we accepted this spring and summer. Combinations of serge and taffeta, serge and satin and full wool fabric dresses will be the vogue.

Colors that harmonize well with furs of all descriptions are those selected by Paris as best for smart clothes. This will popularize shades of taupe and castor, blue, green and all dark colors. A most attractive walking dress is of taupe cloth, having a collar of taupe colored fur and funnel shape pockets on each side of the full gathered skirt, which is attached to the high waist line of the simple bodice. Wrist length sleeves and wide revers are features of this bodice.

Crepe de chine and wash satin, albeit warm weather is here, continue to be much used for lingerie. Muslin underwear is also used, and a good deal of it shows hand embroidery of the French sort.

Gov. Stanley's Speech Well Received at Pikeville.

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 16.—Gov. A. O. Stanley spoke to a large crowd of Democrats and Republicans at this place today. His speech was apt and was heartily applauded. He told the truth and spoke with great earnestness. Though the rain poured down, still this did not stop Democrats from coming from all parts of the county to hear the good things Woodrow Wilson has done for the entire country. It now looks very much like Pike county will go Democratic the 7th of November. The Republicans surely feel defeat, as they seen in ill humor. Charles E. Hughes' speech certainly did not little good. His assertions that Wilson's administration was a failure was a grand mistake, as many Republicans said they knew better. Everybody who is honest in their convictions is compelled to say that it is the best the American people have ever enjoyed. His entire speech was made up of unjust criticism which made Wilson votes. He came to keep Pike county from going Democratic, but he failed in his efforts. It has been well said by more than one, vote for Wilson, hold your job, have peace and plenty, or vote for Hughes, lose your job, go to war, and come to want. We believe the great God of the universe will hear the prayers of the mothers of our land which are going up day by day for Him to help keep their sons from having to go to war. If Hughes is elected, Roosevelt will no doubt have our country in war before six months rolls around. But from all indications Roosevelt will be the cause of Hughes' defeat. He then will have the honor of saying he has been successful in destroying the Republican party. He gave it a wonderful kick in 1912. We are glad to know that many honest progressives can not be led by such a hypocrite who once condemned the Republican party and vindicated a progressive platform entirely different to the standpoints, but now for some cause has deserted his new party and goes back to that which he so bitterly denounced. "Oh! Consistency, thou art a Jew!" Our nation is at peace. All can have lucrative employment. Business was never better, so let us stand by Woodrow Wilson the great factor who has helped bring us such prosperity. A PROGRESSIVE.

MINISTER'S UNION.

Next session will be held Monday next at three o'clock in the Baptist church, and Rev. W. A. Gough will read a paper on "How We Got Our Bible". L. M. COPLEY, Secy.-Treas.

NEW PLANTS FOR Ironton AND ASHLAND.

Ironton, O., Oct. 16.—A new Solway Coke and by-product plant will be erected in the city within a very short time. The corporation will be capitalized at a million and a half dollars and the plant will be one of the most modern in the country. It is understood that work of erection will be begun in the Southside within a reasonable time. This has been under way for many months, but it is now assuming definite form.

It is understood that Ashland, Ky., stands an excellent chance of having the eleven million dollar government armorplate plant, and inasmuch as Ironton has made a united plea, as have other cities in this section, the majority of residents of the entire tri-state section want Ashland to land it. Such a plant would mean tremendous industrial development for Ironton as well as Ashland.

Williamson, W. Va.—Mr. Harry Lawson, of this city, has been appointed by the Governor as a delegate to represent the State of West Virginia at the Farmers' National Congress which convenes in annual session at Indianapolis, Indiana, on October 17, 1916. This is quite a compliment to our townsman and we heartily congratulate him upon the distinction and are glad to know that Mr. Lawson will attend the meeting. He will make a most worthy representative.

PAT MILLETT DEAD.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 13.—Word was received by friends in this city today of the death of P. J. Millett, one of the best known racehorse owners and breeders in the country, at a hospital in Knoxville, Tenn., Thursday night. Mr. Millett spent a part of each year on his farm in this county and had left only two weeks ago for a visit with his sister, Mrs. M. C. Griffin, at Knoxville. Besides a brother, Thomas Millett, also of Knoxville, he had no near relatives. The funeral services and burial will probably take place at Knoxville.

The above item will be read with interest and regret by many people in Louisa and vicinity. Mr. Millett was formerly a railroad contractor and did work on the construction of the Norfolk & Western on Twelve Pole. He was a genial, liberal and popular man.

Maybe it is a good thing that women do not chew tobacco. They wear their waists so low that their chests would always look freckled.

No small boy and no married man is as disobedient as he would like to be.

The reason why some men do not take care of themselves is because they imagine that if they do get sick they can always go and buy a bottle of patent medicine and get cured.

There are volumes of relief expressed in the grunt ejaculated by a Corn Fed girl when she transfers her corset from her own back to that of a chair.

A woman likes to brag that she was the best girl in her class when she went to school. But a man likes to brag that he was the worst boy in his class when he went to school.
